

CASE STUDY

We get the deal done.

Röko acquired Oppigårds

FOOD & BEVERAGE

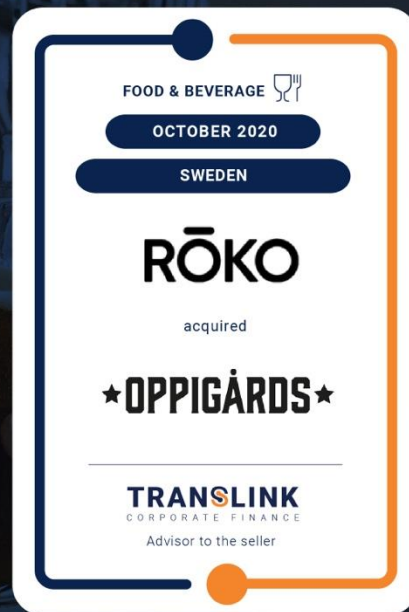

TRANSACTION ANNOUNCEMENT

Translink advised Oppigårds Bryggeri AB in its sale to Röko

Oppigårds develops, brews and markets beer with a particular focus on ale

Röko is a Swedish investment company with an ambition to become a long-term owner of European small and medium-sized companies

TRANSACTION HIGHLIGHTS

Translink Sweden advised Oppigårds Bryggeri on the sale of the company RÖKO. The investment company RÖKO has acquired 70% of Sweden's leading independent craft brewery, Oppigårds Bryggeri AB, from founder CEO Björn Falkeström

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Oppigårds, a family-owned craft beer brewery in Hedemora, Sweden, with roots dating back to the 18th century, demonstrated strong growth potential and robust market demand.
- The company reported net sales of EUR7.3 million with an EBITDA of EUR2.8 million in FY2020.
- A highly competitive sales process with multiple bids resulted in Röko, a Stockholm-based investment firm known for its 'perpetual ownership' approach, acquiring the company.

DEALMAKERS

Fredrik Ullberg

“Thank you to the Translink team for helping facilitate a seamless sale process involving a number of viable bidders.”

Oppigårds Bryggeri